From Markus Bihler, CEO & Co-Founder of Builders Union:

“Thank you for taking the time to read this job description – I really appreciate your interest. Let me explain what we are looking for and why you might find us exciting:

- We believe that as a hedge fund we are in the service industry. That service includes stewardship of capital, the delivery of risk-adjusted absolute returns and honest transparency.
- Yet, as no two individuals are the same, no two investors are. We are working hard to find ways to personalize our investor services by offering and providing more than just the basics.
- As founders of our business, we are not looking to outsource this responsibility. We are looking to hire someone who supports us in delivering optimal quality in our investor relations.
- We like people with smarts and potential, and would like to fill this role with someone who grows and evolves and the role does grow and evolve.

I. WHAT DOES THE ROLE ENTAIL?

- Services to existing investors: How do we provide not only regular updates, reporting and letters, but also help our investors answer the questions they have for us, or about us?
- Work with potential investors: How do we find, select and engage the kind of investor for whom we might have the right product, and with whom we want to develop long-term partnerships? How do we spend our time on the road wisely? What can we do to facilitate the most effective due diligence process?
- Product development: How do we think about what product wrapper we offer our investment strategy in? What could be partners for distribution?

II. WHO WOULD BE PERFECT FOR THE ROLE?

- As the role requires running analytics and preparing information for existing and prospective investors, we are looking for a highly analytical person. Given that the role will include extensive modelling, reporting and providing customized analytics to our investors, we would prefer if you have already spent several years in investment banking or as analyst in a hedge fund, but are now looking for a more people-centric role. We are however also open for other backgrounds, provided you bring a solid financial skill set with sound commercial and analytical acumen.
- You enjoy interacting with internal and external stakeholders. As this role will bring you together with our investment team as well as our existing and potential investors, interpersonal skills are key.
- You have technology affinity to help us optimize our Customer Relationship Software as well as our Investor Portal and take it to meet the evolving need of investors for more interactive and customized information exchange.

- As we are a global fund, any language other than English is of course a plus. If you have responsibilities outside of work, or passions and interests outside of finance, then we would love to hear what they are. We believe they make for better professionals, and more interesting colleagues.

If you feel any of that sounds like just the right fit for you, then please contact us at: build@buam.com.
